

Cookies Policy

Consent

By using this website (www.fix-beer.gr) you consent to the use of cookies in accordance with this cookies policy. You will have seen a pop up to this effect on your first visit to the Website. Although it will not usually appear on subsequent visits, you may withdraw your consent at any time by following the instructions below.

Disabling cookies

If you do not agree to our use of cookies on the Website please disable them by following the instructions for your browser set out <http://allaboutcookies.org> Please note that some of the uses of the Website and the services provided on the Website will not function so well if cookies are disabled.

Where the organisation setting the cookie provides an automated disabling tool in respect of its cookie(s) we list below the name of that organisation, the category of cookies it sets together with a link to its automated disabling tool. In all other cases, we list the names of the cookies themselves and their source at the date of this cookies policy so that you can easily identify and disable them if you want through your browser controls.

Some browsers make it possible for you to signal that you do not want your internet browsing activity to be tracked. Disabling tracking may interfere with some uses of the Website and the services provided on the Website.

After your initial visit to the Website we may change the cookies we use. This cookies policy will always allow you to know who is placing cookies and for what purpose, and give you the means to disable them, so you should check it from time to time.

What are cookies?

Cookies are text files containing small amounts of information which are downloaded to your device when you visit a website. Cookies are then sent back to the originating web domain on your subsequent visits to that domain. Most web pages contain elements from multiple web domains, so when you visit the Website your browser may receive cookies from several sources.

Cookies are useful because they allow a website to recognise a user's device. Cookies allow you to navigate between pages efficiently, remember preferences and generally improve the user experience. They can also be used to tailor advertising to your interests through tracking your browsing across websites.

Session cookies are deleted automatically when you close your browser and persistent cookies remain on your device after the browser is closed (for example to remember your user preferences when you return to a website).

What types of cookies does Olympic Brewery use?

We describe the categories of cookies Olympic Brewery, its affiliates and its contractors use below.

Strictly Necessary Cookies

These cookies are essential in order to enable you to move around the Website and use its features. Without these cookies, services you have asked for (such as navigating between pages, using a shopping cart or e-billing services) cannot be provided.

The Website currently uses the following, strictly necessary cookies:

Cookie Name	Source	Purpose	Further Information
wp_set_auth_cookie($user_id,	[Fix Beer]	This session cookie

$remember, $secure)		implements a technology which is essential for the operation of the Website. It assigns an identification number to each visitor so they can navigate the Website correctly.
[Wordpress CMScookiesession]	[Fix Beer]	This cookie is used for the same purposes as the preceding cookie, through a technology provided by Wordpress CMS.

Performance Cookies

We make use of analytic cookies to analyse how our visitors use the Website and to monitor the Website's performance. This allows us to provide a high quality experience by customising our offering, and quickly identifying and fixing any issues that arise. For example, we might use performance cookies to keep track of which pages are most popular, which method of linking between pages is most effective, and to determine why some pages are receiving error messages. We might also use these cookies to highlight articles or site services that we think will be of interest to you based on your usage of the Website. The information collected by these cookies is not associated with your personal information by us or by our contractors.

The Website currently uses the following analytic cookies [from Google Analytics]:

Cookie Name	Source	Purpose	Duration	Further Information
-utma	Google Analytics	These cookies are used to collect information about how visitors use the Website. We use the information to compile reports and to help us improve the Website. The cookies collect information in an anonymous form, including the number of visitors to the Website, where		Click here for Google's privacy policy in respect of Google Analytics http://www.google.com/analytics/learn/privacy.html You may opt out of tracking by Google Analytics by visiting https://tools.google.com/dlpage/gaoptout?hl=en-GB. Persistent cookies.

Advertising Cookies

Advertising cookies (or targeting cookies) collect information about the browsing habits associated with your device and are used to make advertising more relevant to you and your interests. They are also used by services provided by third parties on the Website, such as 'Like' or 'Share' buttons, in addition to providing the requested functionality. Third parties provide these services in return for recognising that you (or more accurately your device has) have visited a certain website. These third parties put down advertising cookies both when you visit the Website, and when you use their services and navigate away from the Website. Their privacy practices are set out below:

- AddThis (the service that runs some of our social sharing buttons): <http://www.addthis.com/privacy#.T6j--usS0bw>
- YouTube video player cookie policy: <https://policies.google.com/privacy?hl=en> (Google's standard terms).
- Facebook's data use policy: <http://www.facebook.com/about/privacy/your-info-on-other>
- Twitter's privacy policy: <https://twitter.com/privacy>
- LinkedIn's cookie policy: <https://www.linkedin.com/legal/cookie-policy>

You can opt out of the advertising cookies set by these third parties at <http://www.youronlinechoices.com/uk/your-ad-choices>

- Facebook's data use policy: <http://www.facebook.com/about/privacy/your-info-on-other>
- Twitter's privacy policy: <https://twitter.com/privacy>

In addition to the cookies set by third parties set out above, the following other advertising cookies are also used:

Cookie Name	Source	Duration	Purpose	Further Information

Local Shared Objects ("Flash cookies")

In addition to the above cookies, we use Local Shared Objects, also referred to as "Flash cookies," on the Website. These are used to enhance your user experience, for example, by storing your user preferences and settings, [such as your volume/mute settings, and in connection with animated content on the Website]. Local Shared Objects are similar to browser cookies, but can store more complex data than simple text. By themselves, they cannot do anything to, or with, the data on your computer. Like other cookies, they can only access personally identifiable information that you have provided on the Website, and cannot be accessed by other websites. To find out more about Flash cookies or how to disable them, please click here <http://helpx.adobe.com/flash-player/kb/disable-local-shared-objects-flash.html>.

HTML email web beacons

Our emails may contain a single, campaign-unique "web beacon pixel" to tell us whether our emails are opened and verify any clicks through to links within the email. We may use this information for purposes including determining which of our emails are more interesting to you and to query whether users who do not open our emails wish to continue receiving them. The pixel will be deleted when you delete the email. If you do not wish the pixel to be downloaded to your device, you should select to receive emails from us in plain text rather than HTML. Some of the pages on the Website may also contain web beacons and allow us to count visitors who have viewed our pages. They allow us to develop statistical information about the activities and features that most interest our consumers for the purpose of providing more personalised content. In general, they are not used to access personally identifiable information without your consent.

Pixel tags may be shared with third parties that directly support our promotional activities and website development. For example, in order to measure the effectiveness of our ads, third parties, including Facebook, may use cookies, web beacons, and other storage technologies to collect or receive information from the Website and elsewhere on the internet, and use that information to provide measurement services to and target ads on their own platforms. You can find out how to opt-out of the collection and use of information for ad targeting by third parties here (links to <http://www.aboutads.info/choices> and <http://www.youronlinechoices.eu/>).

Use of IP addresses and web logs

We may also use your IP address and browser type to help diagnose problems with our server, to administer the Website and to improve the service we offer to you. An IP address is a numeric code that identifies your computer on the internet. Your IP address might also be used to gather broad demographic information.

We may perform IP lookups to determine which domain you are coming from (e.g. google.com) to more accurately gauge our users' demographics.

Cookies policy does not cover third party websites

Please note that this cookies policy does not apply to, and we are not responsible for, the privacy practices of third party websites that may be linked to the Website.

Changes to the cookies policy

We may update this cookies policy and we would encourage you to review the policy from time to time to stay informed of how we are using cookies. This cookies policy was last updated on 25 May 2018.

Cookie Consent Pop Up Language

Step 1 - Header/ Landing Page

Mechanism: Header page (no shading) obscuring site or part of site until another part of the page is clicked - cookies not set until user consents – user to be prevented from navigating past the first page until user consents to cookies. Must be sufficiently prominent for site operator to maintain that user could not have failed to have seen and read it. Cookie used to keep the header page up for at least the user's next [3] visits and then takes header down (if cookie is deleted the header will reappear).

Text of Landing Page:

"Use of cookies by [website]

We uses cookies to deliver our online services. Details and instructions on how to disable those cookies are set out [here] [please insert link to cookies policy here].

By clicking 'I Accept', you consent to our use of our cookies unless you have disabled them."

["I Accept"] [button or hyperlink which the user must click to allow website to drop cookies and to allow the user to navigate beyond the homepage of the website].

Step 2 - Informative link on Home Page at all times

Ensure that there is a prominent cookies link to the cookies policy on the home page at all times.
